

Chemical Technologist

Scientific Support Group

Term (1-year term) Full-Time Position

About Us

SNOLAB is an international facility for world-class underground physics research and has an expanding programme in astroparticle physics and underground science. Located in an air-conditioned clean room 2 km underground in the Vale Creighton Mine near Sudbury Ontario, with a suite of surface facilities and laboratories, SNOLAB is currently preparing for the next generation of experiments focusing on neutrino studies and the search for galactic dark matter.

The Position

The Chemical Technologist will provide chemistry, testing, and assembly support for SNOLAB operations, and support for research scientists and SNOLAB users. The successful candidate will operate and maintain chemical analytical equipment, analyze data, and write reports. The position will assist in all aspects of maintaining the laboratories including equipment, instruments, procedures, ordering supplies, inventories, records, SDSs, hazardous waste, and equipment cleaning. The position reports to the manager of the Scientific Support Group.

Criteria

Education:

- A three-year college program in chemical, biochemical, chemical engineering, or closely related discipline.

Experience:

- Experience with sample preparation and the operation of analytical instruments such as UV-vis, XRF, LC, and ICP-MS or similar.
- Experience working in a research laboratory setting.
- Experience conducting data analysis and preparing reports.
- Experience in developing and writing work procedures and checklists.
- Experience in the design, setup, and running of laboratory test experiments is an asset

Salary Range

Salary will be determined by qualifications and experience and includes an attractive benefits package. Relocation assistance will be determined in accordance with SNOLAB policies. This position is covered by the Collective Agreement between the SNOLAB Institute and the United Steelworkers Local 2020. To meet operational needs, shift work may be required.
